- Your use of this website and any dispute arising out of such use of the website is subject to the laws of England, Northern Ireland, Scotland and Wales.

Under the Data Protection Act 2018, you have the right to find out what information the government and other organisations store about you. These include the right to:

- be informed about how your data is being used
- access personal data

- have incorrect data updated
- have data erased
- stop or restrict the processing of your data
- data portability (allowing you to get and reuse your data for different services)
- object to how your data is processed in certain circumstances

You also have rights when an organisation is using your personal data for:

- automated decision-making processes (without human involvement)
- profiling, for example to predict your behaviour or interests

In response to the new Act, Lincs Wings asked members if they were happy to keep their details on the website. We explained that personal details were maintained in a password protected part of the site which was only available to Lincswings members, and that we only used these details in order to maintain communications within the club. Furthermore, all e-mail correspondence from that time onwards would be sent using "BCC" address lists in order to hide the full list of e-mail addresses from recipients. Whenever possible, photographs used on the website are attributed to the contributor.

Any member wishing to add, amend, or remove their personal details from the site or wishing to report a problem involving personal data, should contact the Webmaster.
